

CLEANTECH ALLIANCE NEW EVENTS FOR 2021

As part of our ongoing mission to facilitate the generation and growth of cleantech companies and jobs, we are planning on adding several new events to our 2021 Calendar.

Solar Tech Summit - January

Due to our new partnership with the Roofing Contractors Association of Washington (RCAW), we have heard the need for roofing contractors and solar installers to partner more closely together. This Summit will allow the two groups to explore new technologies, share best practices, and find connections.

Alumni Pitch Prize with Foresight - February

A joint program between the Cleantech Alliance and Foresight that will provide an additional opportunity for alumni of both programs to share updates and successes.

AgTech Futures and the Circular Economy - March

AgTech is one of the unsung heroes of the cleantech ecosystem, especially as it relates to the circular economy. This event will touch on the important innovations and needs in the sectors.

Focus on Fusion - April

Fusion technologies will be critical to achieving a sustainable future and there is a need to educate stakeholders on the technologies applications and benefits. This event will focus on policy and community engagement.

Industry Speed Dating for Labs & Universities - May

Researchers will be paired with industry to hear current challenges. Entrepreneurs and industry will learn how to partner and take advantage of lab and university resources.

Water & the Built Environment - May

This event will explore all of the connections and challenges that intersect between water management and the built environment.

Carbon Sequestration - July

One of our most requested Breakfast topics returns as its own event!

Corporate Sustainability Solutions Summit - September

This summit will showcase corporate sustainability solutions and allow corporations to talk best practices and swap success stories.

Transportation and Alternative Fuels - September

Electricity, hydrogen, and ethanol are just a few of the cutting edge fuels and transportation options we will discuss at this event.

Aviation Sustainability - October

Sustainability will be critical to the future of aviation, and we are excited to explore the 'green skies' of the not too distant future.

Zappy Hour - Monthly, beginning in January

This will be a monthly mid-morning clean energy-focused coffee hour
