

2024 Legislative Session Weekly Report

CleanTech Alliance

January 26, 2024

Week Three

We have now completed week three of the 60-day legislative session, marking one-third of its duration. By Wednesday, January 31st, all bills without fiscal implications need to have passed their respective policy committees to remain alive. Following this deadline, attention will turn to the budget committees, which are set to convene over the upcoming weekend in preparation for the fiscal cutoff on February 5th. Subsequent to this, both the House and Senate will engage in floor votes to pass bills out of their respective chambers. The House of Origin cutoff is February 13th.

Key Issues Before the Legislature - Week 3:

*Please click on the provided hyperlinks for more information on any given topic.

- Limiting Natural Gas to Decarbonize Energy Grid - HB 1589 aims to decarbonize Washington State's energy grid by limiting the expansion of natural gas services. Proponents argue it's a necessary step to combat climate change, noting natural gas accounts for a significant portion of Seattle's carbon emissions. However, opponents raise concerns about the cost impact on consumers, particularly in underserved communities. The bill passed the House (52-45) and moved to the Senate for further discussion. Read more here. To watch the floor debate, click here.
- Child Care and Tax Preferences - The House Finance Committee held a public hearing on two pieces of legislation related to tax preferences and childcare. HB 1716 by Rep. Alicia Rule (D-Blaine) would give businesses that provide child care a credit on their business and occupation taxes. HB 2322, sponsored by Representative Senn (D-Mercer Island), would require companies that get a preferential B&O tax rate to provide child care for their employees. You can read about the proposals here.
- Climate Commitment Act Charges on Utility Bills - A bill was discussed to require utility bills to reflect charges related to the Climate Commitment Act. This bill aims to address climate change by setting greenhouse gas limits for companies. Republican Senator Drew McEwen (R-Shelton) sponsored the bill, emphasizing the importance of consumer understanding of these charges. Read more here.
- Linkage of Washington's Carbon Market with the California-Quebec Carbon Market - SB 6058/HB 2201 are Department of Ecology request companion bills that have garnered a lot of attention this session. As a reminder, an alternative goes to the voters on the ballot. On Thursday, the House vehicle of the bill passed out of committee (9-4). There is still a question on whether or not this proposal would constitute an alternative to I 2117. Read more here.
- Transit-Oriented Development - HB 2160, which requires larger cities to allow denser housing near train or bus stops. This bill, like a previous failed attempt, faces challenges due to certain aspects like affordability requirements, displacement safeguards, and parking limits. This bill had a public hearing on Thursday in the House Capital Budget Committee. Click here to learn more.

Insight - Week 3:

- Initiatives Update: As of Thursday, all six initiatives were certified by the Secretary of State's office. Initiative 2113 (police pursuits), Initiative 2117 (Cap-and-Trade), Initiative 2081 (parental rights relating to their children's public school education), Initiative 2109 (capital gains tax), Initiative 2111 (banning state income tax), and Initiative 2124 (long-term care insurance). Initiatives are exempt from cutoff dates.
 - Articles of Interest: Initiative 2109 - MyNorthwest, 2024 Washington state initiatives target capital gains tax and more - Axios, Effort to place WA's capital gains tax on November ballot advances - The Seattle Times, Representatives Dye and Doglio on the Climate Commitment Act
- Leadership Interviews:
