

2024 Legislative Session Weekly Report

CleanTech Alliance

March 2, 2024

Week Eight

Legislators worked long hours and through the weekend leading up to the Opposite House Fiscal Committee Cutoff on February 26th to ensure that priority legislation survived the deadline. Following Monday's cutoff, legislators returned to the floor of their respective chambers to debate and vote on bills before the Opposite House Cutoff, which was on Friday, March 1st. The last bill had to begin floor debate by 5:00 PM on cutoff day to be considered.

These cutoff deadlines do not apply to initiatives and alternatives to initiatives, budgets and bills that are deemed necessary to implement budgets. The final cutoff date will be Sine Die (last day of session) on March 7. Next week we expect the Legislature will vote on the three initiatives they heard this week (see below for more detail), release and pass negotiated budgets, and reconcile changes made to bills in the opposite house.

Legislator retirement announcements always pick up toward the end of session in any election year. Last week we reported Sen. Sam Hunt (D-Olympia) - this week former House Minority Leader Representative J.T. Wilcox (R-Yelm) announced his retirement.

Below is a summary of legislative highlights.

Key Issues Before the Legislature - Week 8:

*Please click on the provided hyperlinks for more information on any given topic.

- Keep Our Care Act - SB 5241 was the last bill brought to the House floor on Friday before the 5:00pm cut off. The bill was read in at 4:56pm and then the House broke for caucus. This legislation works to implement AG approval for mergers and affiliations of hospitals with the intent of protecting access to healthcare and cost of care. The bill has been very controversial all session. Advocates believe that the bill will preserve access to critical services like reproductive health, gender affirming care, and death with dignity while also preventing consolidation in the healthcare marketplace. Providers fear that the bill would actually have the opposite effect, by delaying critical mergers that are necessary to preserve care. After four hours of caucus the House came back and deferred action on the bill. While no bill is ever dead until they adjourn, this legislation is unlikely to move forward. Read more about the bill here.
- Limiting Natural Gas to Decarbonize Energy Grid - HB 1589 was the last bill heard by the Senate on Friday. This legislation aims to decarbonize Washington State's energy grid by limiting the expansion of natural gas services. On Thursday, the bill was brought to the Senate floor for debate. After four hours of floor debate in the Senate on the bill, Republican floor leader Shelly Short made a point of order that the bill was improperly before the Senate because it violated Senate Rule 26. Senate Rule 26 states that "No act shall ever be revised or amended by mere reference to its title, but the act revised or the section amended shall be set forth at full length." The Senate went at ease while LG Denny Heck considered the point of order. After two hours they came back, and Heck ruled that the point was well taken. The bill had to be moved back to second reading so that it could be amended. The amended bill was brought back to the floor on Friday and passed with a vote of 27-22.

- UI for Striking Workers -HB 1893 failed to advance before yesterday's cutoff. The bill was hotly debated all session and was a key priority for labor. The employer community and members in both caucuses expressed concerns with the bill and the potential negative impact the bill would have on the state's UI system. On Friday the bill was pulled from Senate rules to the floor calendar. The bill failed to make it to the Senate floor before Friday's cutoff and will not move forward this session. You can read more here.

Insight - Week 8:

- Budgets - Over this weekend, budget writers will stay in town to work on negotiating final budgets. We anticipate that final budget proposals will be released early next week and then work their way through the legislative process before the legislature adjourns Sine Die on March 7.
  - Capital Budget
    - Senate Proposed, SB 5949
    - House Proposed, HB 2089
  - Operating Budget
    - Senate Proposed, SSB 5950
    - House Proposed, SHB 2104
  - Transportation Budget
    - Senate Proposed, SB 5947,
    - House Proposed, HB 2134,
- Initiatives Update -I-2117 (works to repeal the two-year-old Climate Commitment Act), I-2109 (works to repeal the capital gains excise tax), and I-2124 (which repeals the Washington Cares Fund) are anticipated to be on the ballot in November for the public to decide. The three initiatives that had public hearings this week were all voted out of their respective committees on Friday and now move to the floor for debate and a vote.
  - I-2111 - This initiative seeks to codify Washington state's longstanding tradition of prohibiting state and local personal income taxes. The initiative had a public hearing in front of the Senate Ways & Means and House Finance Joint Committee on February 27th. Supporters believe it will stabilize the economy and attract business, seeking a guarantee against future income taxes due to dissatisfaction with current fiscal policies. Critics argue the initiative is unnecessary and harmful, pointing out that Washington's heavy reliance on sales taxes unfairly burdens lower earners. They also warn that banning an income tax could hinder the state's ability to improve its tax system and fund public services. Read more here.
    - House: 7-5, Senate: 19-3
  - I-2113 - A joint public hearing by the Senate Law Justice and House Community Safety, Justice, and Reentry committees on February 28th. The initiative is aimed at rolling back current state restrictions on police pursuits. The initiative proposes to change the criteria for police pursuits, allowing officers more discretion by requiring that a person must pose a "threat to the safety of others" rather than a "serious risk of harm" for a pursuit to be initiated. Supporters argue that the initiative is necessary for public safety and to allow police officers to more effectively combat crime. Opponents, however, cite studies indicating that police pursuits often result in injuries and deaths making streets more dangerous.
    - House: 7-2, Senate: 7-4
  - I-2081 - The House Education Committee and the Senate Early Learning and K-12 Education Committee held a joint public hearing on February 28th. This initiative seeks to enhance parents' rights regarding their children's education. This includes access to textbooks, medical and disciplinary records, and notifications about medical services provided to their children. Supporters argue that the law is necessary to reinforce parental rights and address concerns over curriculum content and school policies. Critics express worries that the initiative's language is confusing and could negatively impact vulnerable students.

▪ House: 14-1, Senate: Unanimous

CleanTech Alliance Specific Issues - Week 8:

Budget: Thank you to those who sent emails urging our budget proviso requests to make it into the final budget. We should have confirmation on if they made it to the final budget by the middle of next week.

Bills that Survived Cutoff:

- Representative Shavers' bill HB 1924, promoting the integration of fusion technology within state clean energy policies, was unanimously voted off the Senate floor on Tuesday, February 27th. The bill will now return to the Senate for concurrence.
- Representative Ramel's thermal energy networks bill for gas utilities, HB 2131, passed off of the Senate floor on Friday, March 1st, and will now return to the House for concurrence.
- The Senate vehicle for the carbon market linkage bill, SB 6058, passed off of the House floor on Thursday, February 29th (57-39). The bill will now return to the Senate for concurrence.
- Rep. Doglio's bill, HB 1589, works to support Washington's clean energy economy and transitioning to a clean, affordable, and reliable energy future. The bill passed off the Senate floor with a vote of 27-22 and now moves back to the House for concurrence.
- HB 2020, sponsored by Representative Timmons, authorizes the Military Department to administer a program for emergency assistance to county governments and federally recognized tribes that experience public infrastructure damage due to a natural, technological, or human-caused disaster. The bill passed off of the Senate floor unanimously on Thursday, February 29th, and will now move to the Governor's desk for final passage.

Bills that Appear Dead:

*Reminder that bills are never actually dead until the end of session

- HB 2069, concerning the sale of biogenic carbon dioxide and other coproducts of biogas processing, did not get pulled onto the Senate floor for a vote and now appears dead for this session.
- Senator Shewmake's bill, SB 6092, which concerns the disclosure of greenhouse gas emissions, did not get pulled to the House floor for a vote. It appears as if the bill is dead for this session.
- HB 2401, sponsored by Representative Duerr, deals with providing for the responsible management of refrigerant gasses with a higher global warming potential than carbon dioxide that are used in appliances or other infrastructure. The bill received a do pass recommendation in the Senate Environment, Energy & Technology Committee on Tuesday, February 20th. It was heard in the Senate Ways & Means Committee on Saturday, February 24th and although it was scheduled for executive session on Monday, February 26th, no action was taken and the bill is now considered dead for this session.
- Representative Barnard's Tax Preferences for Clean Energy Manufacturers bill, HB 2120, had a public hearing on Tuesday, February 20, in front of the Senate Environment, Energy & Technology Committee however it failed to make it out of committee prior to Wednesday's cutoff and is now considered dead for this session.
- The Re-WRAP Act, HB 2049, never got pulled onto the House floor for a vote and is considered dead for the session.

- Representative Slatter’s bill, HB 2073, regarding greenhouse gasses from sources other than methane and carbon dioxide was not pulled to the House floor by a member before the House of Origin cutoff and is considered dead for the session.
- Senator Mullet introduced legislation to provide a state B&O tax exemption to encourage clean technology manufacturing in Washington (SB 6243). It did not move out of its house of origin policy committee prior to the cutoff.
- Representative Barnard has introduced legislation aimed at establishing the development of renewable energy for the Washington revolving loan program and account (HB 2417). The bill never moved out of its house of origin policy committee and is considered dead.
